

Carrie Rogers joined the Los Angeles County Economic Development Corporation (LAEDC) in 2007 as V.P of Business Assistance and Development, bringing more than 30 years in both the public and private sectors and more than 13 years in management and administration of municipal government operations.

Prior to joining LAEDC, Carrie served as the Manager of Marketing and Economic Development for the City of Santa Clarita where she was responsible for six programs including economic development, redevelopment, film, tourism, housing, and federal Community Development Block Grant program. She authorized and managed the City's successful application for a state of California Enterprise Zone, led the development of the City's interactive GIS Economic Development Layer and played a key role in establishing Santa Clarita as one of LAEDC's finalists for the "Most Business-Friendly City in Los Angeles County" Award.

Carrie is a member of the International Economic Development Council, Team California, California Association for Local Economic Development, California Enterprise Zones, greater Antelope Valley Economic Alliance, Santa Clarita Valley Economic Alliance, and Soroptimist International of the Santa Clarita Valley.

Carrie holds a Masters Degree in Public Administration from Cal State Northridge and a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Business Administration from Cal State Fullerton.